Columbia River Update

Dear Tribal Representative:

Last May you were invited to participate on a conference call regarding the addition of the Columbia River Basin to the Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) 2006 - 2011 Strategic Plan. Since that time EPA finalized the strategic plan and the Columbia River Basin is now a Great Water Body of the US; this is a notable acknowledgement of the importance of this ecosystem. At this time EPA would like to schedule a 90 minute conference call to update you on the following topics regarding the Columbia River:

1. The Columbia River Toxics Reduction Strategy
2. The Columbia River goals and targets included in the 2008 - 2011 Strategic Plan
3. The work in progress concerning the 10% toxics reduction (in fish and water) target and the baseline development that will be final and posted on the EPA Columbia River website [www.epa.gov/region10/columbia] by early February, 2007

EPA would like to schedule a 90 minute call on either January 23, 2007 or January 24, 2006. If you are interested in participating on this call, please contact me at this email address (parara.amber@epa.gov) or at 503-326-7024 to confirm your interest and provide your availability on those two days. I would also appreciate a negative response if you are not interested in participating on the call. Once the time of the call is finalized, I will send out another message with the call in number and additional information regarding these topics.

Thank you.
